A contact lens, painted black, makes an ideal skullcap for a Jewish hamster. Advice

#0021

"There are two rules for success: 1. don't tell all you know" Advice

#0022

HOW TO IMPRESS A MAN... show up naked, bring beer." Advice

#0023

"Scientists have proven that cigarettes are harmful to the health of Children.
Fair enough, use an ashtray." Advice

#0024

"On a serious note, I am concerned with global warming and the effect it will have on our future, especially after reading an Article about low water levels in reservoirs. Well, I drive past my local reservoir every day, and each morning I empty a bucket of water from my tap while on my way to work. If all of us did the same, these reservoirs would be full in no time." Advice

#0025

Anybody else think we'll be seeing the words "Database latency too high" on Friday? Advice

#0026

"Why do women like men who are smArt, goal orientated and have a sense of humor? Because opposites attract." Advice

If you see someone just randomly removing their iPod headphones on the bus or the Tube, you can be pretty sure they're gauging how loud their fart is. Advice

#0053

"They always put "For best before date: see side of pack" on groceries. Why can't they just put the date there?" Advice

#0054

"A tour bus driver is driving with a bus load of OAPs when he is tapped on his shoulder by a little old lady. She offers him a handful of peanuts, which he gratefully munches up. After about 15 minutes, she taps him on his shoulder again and she hands him another handful of peanuts. When she is about to hand him another batch again he asks her: "Why don't you eat the peanuts yourself?" "We can't chew them because we've no teeth", she replied. "We just love the chocolate around them."" Advice

#0055

A truly wise man never plays leapfrog with a unicorn. Advice

#0056

"My boss once told me, "Don't dress for the job you have, but for the job you want". Which makes you wonder why he fired me for coming in dressed as a Mexican wrestler" Advice

#0057

"The veteran actor and director turned to me and said, "You know what they say, you should never work with Children or Animals." "That's an old theatre saying, isn't it?" I replied. "No, it's what the police told us when we did your CRB check."" Advice

#0058

"Need overpriced, average clothes? There's a Gap for that." Advice

#0059

People shouldn't worry about the world ending. It's already tomorrow in Australia! Advice

#0060

"So I was getting into my car and this bloke said to me, "Can you give me a lift?" I said, "Sure... You look great, the world's your oyster, go for it!" Advice

#0061

I distinctly remember one time my parents talking to me down the phone and saying, if we throw cash away at you now, you'll never know the value of money. But I still think it would've been nice for them to pay that ransom. Advice

#0062

"Top tip: When going through a speed camera, flash your lights twice quickly and watch the driver in front hit their brakes when they think they've been caught." Advice

#0063

When you write a joke you should always proof-read it carefully to make sure you haven't any words out. Advice

#0064

"When getting into a fight in a pub, don't concern yourself with ungentlemanly fisticuffs. First shout something innocuous at your opponent, to grab the pub's attention. Then calmly walk to the door. There, turn around and in your loudest voice yell, "At least I'm not a pedophile." The seed planted into everyone's mind will do more long-term damage than any punch could ever do." Advice

#0065

Do not argue with an idiot. He will drag you down to his level and beat you with experience. Advice

#0066

"What's worse than a bull in a china shop? A hedgehog in a condom factory." Advice

#0067

I recently went to Birmingham with low expectations, and I left disappointed. Advice

#0068

"Top tip: When at the airport, if you get asked "Anything to declare?", it's not the best response to say "A Thumb War". Still though, their prison isn't too bad." Advice

#0069

"What have a grave yard and a beach got in common? You will have a much better time if you take a spade." Advice

#0070

Is it just me that reads a joke and looks at the score before laughing or not? Advice

#0071 What do you do if your friends tell you not to give in to peer pressure? Advice

#0072

If "fishing" means luring, hooking, catching, and potentially killing fish, shouldn't we investigate whenever someone says, "I'm kidding"? Advice

#0073

Never moon a werewolf. Advice

#0074

"Knowledge is knowing that a tomato is a fruit. Wisdom is knowing not to put it in a fruit salad." Advice

#0075

"Never have a motto. That's my motto." Advice

#0076

Top tip: city councils save hundreds of pounds on signs warning of dangerous bends, simply tie a bunch of flowers to a nearby tree Advice

#0077

If you want to write a letter, use a pen and paper. Advice

#0078

"In the news was a story that a boy died by walking in front of a moving train. The excuse is that he was listening to his ipod loud. The Family have urged people not to listen to iPods while outside "for your own safety". Wouldn't it be more constructive if she told people to look before crossing?" Advice

#0079

"Giva a man a fish and he will eat for a day. Teach a man to fish and his wife will divorce him." Advice

#0080

"What is the most important thing to learn in chemistry? Never lick the spoon." Advice

#0081

"I'm doing an environmental studies course and I need ideas on how to save trees. Answers on a postcard please." Advice

#0082

Top Tip: Avoid tears when chopping onions by using carrots instead. Advice

#0083

BUS DRIVERS. If you see an attractive woman with a low cut top at the bus stop, accelerate and come to a halt 50 feet past the stop. You will then have a great view in your nearside mirror as she runs towards you. Finally, accidentally drop her change for a second look. Advice

#0084

If you ever have trouble opening a bottle of champagne, my Advice, hit it with a ship. I've seen people do that, it works! Advice

#0085

I always give waiters a tip, but they never seem to appreciate my Advice. Advice

#0086

"Don't shoot the messenger.' Do postmen count? I'm going to need a quick answer on this." Advice

#0087

"O.A.P drivers. The little number 5 on your gearstick refers to what is known as "Fifth Gear". This will allow you to reach speeds of over 25 mph." Advice

#0088

"If you leave a dog in a car on a hot day without water or ventilation, it could be dead in 15 minutes. However, I've discovered that if I put the heating on as well, I can get it down to about five." Advice

#0089

Fool people into thinking you are an octopus by drinking several liters of ink and farting every time someone startles you. Advice

#0090

Am I the only one getting annoyed with all these jokes that relate directly to Sickipedia that become so popular? These jokes don't work in the real world. Try telling a joke about data latency being too high after an awesome pedophile joke to all your friends at the pub. Your friends will hate you and you'll be lonely and you'll kill yourself. Let's get back to the actual sick jokes, people. Advice

#0091

"The best thing for baldness? Hair." Advice

#0092

WINDOW CLEANERS. When agreeing a price with Dr Who to clean the windows of the Tardis, don't be conned into agreeing to do the insides for the same price. Advice

#0093

Never trust a plumber who wears wellies. Advice

#0094

"Land Line users: Save 1 a month on "caller display" by simply answering the phone and asking who it is." Advice

#0117

"I work in a bar called Advice. I get really good tips." Advice

#0118

It was good Advice when someone told me I'd never meet the woman of my Dreams at a bar. The women in my Dreams aren't old enough to get in. Advice

#0119

Here's a useful shopping tip - You can get a pair of shoes for 1 in the bowling alley. Advice

#0120

Trying to be funny is like trying to force a fart - it never turns out quite as you expect and you'll likely have to leave the room. Advice

#0121

"Top tip: If you have a paranoid friend and they leave their mobile lying around, pick it up and add little reminders like "I'm watching you" and "You're not alone" to random dates. Epic lots!" Advice

#0122

Give a man a fish and you've fed him for a day. But teach a man to wear a fishnet stocking for a mask and hold up a bank and you've taken care of him for life, one way or another. Advice

#0123

#0130

"My old Dad always said, "Lift with your legs". I find it easier to use my arms." Advice

#0131

"It is estimated that it has cost the British taxpayer 2.3 million to pay for the Pope's visit. They obviously never heard of Ryan air, return tickets from Rome start at 48." Advice

#0132

Take my Advice: I don't use it anyway. Advice

#0133

Word of Advice for those people who make jokes about Walkers crisp bags having very few crisps in them. Don't bother buying a Ryan air sick bag - they turn out to be even more disappointing. Advice

#0134

Marathon runners cover over 26 miles in two hours, train for years and when they finish cannot breath and are bent double with pain. I, on the other hand, can spend the 2 hours in the pub drinking and smoking, yet walk out as right as rain. Therefore running is obviously bad for you. Advice

#0135

If I had a pound for every time I lost a pound, I would be no better off. Advice

#0136

A good rule of thumb is if you've made it to thirty-five and your job still requires you to wear a name tag, you've made a serious vocational error. Advice

#0137

"How to write a successful joke: For a joke to be successful, one must consider the various discourses of humour, especially pertaining to the various genres of comedy that exist. One must also consider the various synonyms of the vocabulary used in the joke and the intended meaning of the word (versus the normal usage of the word in a non-joke context). We use Hilling's formula to calculate the efficacy of the word play ($C = 1/x * R(4e)$). We must then take into account the use of current affairs, using Smith's algorithm ($1>2>3>4>X<4<3<2<1$). Finally, it is essential that we consider the intended target. Failing that, just write something about black people being lazy." Advice

"In a small fishing village, a fisherman was walking up the wharf carrying two - at least three-pound live lobsters - one in each hand. It was three weeks after the season closed! Whom should he meet at the end of the wharf but the Federal Fisheries Officer who, upon viewing the live and wiggling lobsters, says: "Well I Lad die I got you this time - with two live lobsters three weeks after the season closed!" The fisherman says, "No - My Son you are wrong! These are two trained lobsters that I caught two weeks before the season ended." The Fisheries Officer says, "Trained like how?" "Well my son, each day I takes these two from my house down to the wharf and puts them in the water for a swim. While they swim I sits on the wharf and has me a smoke, or two. After about 15 minutes I whistles and up comes me two lobsters, and I takes them home!" "Likely story", the Fisheries Officer says! "Let's take them on down the wharf and see if it's true." So, the fisherman goes ahead of the Fisheries Officer to the end of the wharf where, under supervision, he gently lowers both lobsters into the water. The fisherman sits on a wharf piling and lights up a smoke, then another! After about 15 minutes the Fisheries Officer says to the fisherman, "How about whistling?" The fisherman says "What For?" He sees an ice cream shop and, being a penguin in Arizona, decides that something cold would really hit the spot. He gets a big bowl of vanilla ice cream and sits down to eat. Having no hands, he makes a real mess trying to eat with his little flippers. After finishing his ice cream, he goes back to the gas station and asks the mechanic if he's found the problem. "Yep," the Lab replies. After the guy recovers from the shock of hearing a dog talk, he says "So, what's your story?" The Lab looks up and says, "Well, I discovered that I could talk when I was pretty young. I wanted to help the government, so I told the CIA. In no time at all they had me jetting from country to country, sitting in rooms with spies and world leaders, because no one figured a dog would be eavesdropping. I was one of their most valuable spies for eight years running.” “But the jetting around really tired me out, and I knew I wasn't getting any younger so I decided to settle down. "The Unforgettable Elephant Story In 1986, Dan Harrison was on holiday in Kenya after graduating from Northwestern University. On a hike through the bush, he came across a young bull elephant standing with one leg raised in the air. The elephant seemed distressed, so Dan approached it very carefully. He got down on one knee and inspected the elephant's foot and found a large piece of wood deeply embedded in it. As carefully and as gently as he could, Dan worked the wood out with his hunting knife, after which the elephant gingerly put down its foot. The elephant turned to face the man, and with a rather curious look on its face, stared at him for several tense moments. Dan stood frozen, thinking of nothing else but being trampled. Eventually the elephant trumpeted loudly, turned, and walked away. Dan never forgot that elephant or the events of that day. Twenty years later, Dan was walking through the Chicago Zoo with his teenaged son. As they approached the elephant enclosure, one of the creatures turned and walked over to near where Dan and his son Dan Jr. were standing. The large bull elephant stared at Dan, lifted its front foot off the ground, and then put it down. The elephant did that several times then trumpeted loudly, all the while staring at the man. Remembering the encounter in 1986, Dan couldn't help wondering if this was the same elephant. Dan summoned up his courage, climbed over the railing and made his way into the enclosure. He walked right up to the elephant and stared back in wonder. The elephant trumpeted again, wrapped its trunk around one of Dan's legs and slammed him against the railing, killing him instantly. Probably wasn't the same elephant." Animals-Insects

After the man finished his drink, he asked the bArtender, "If I show you an even better trick, will you give me free drinks for the rest of the evening?" The bArtender agrees, thinking that no trick could possibly be better than the first.

The man reaches into his pocket and pulls out a tiny rat. He reaches into his other pocket and pulls out a tiny piano. The rat stretches, cracks his knuckles, and proceeds to play the blues. The man reaches into another pocket and pulls out a small bullfrog, who begins to sing along with the rat's music. While the man is enjoying his beverages, a stranger confronts him and offers him $100,000.00 for the bullfrog. "Sorry," the man replies, "he's not for sale." The stranger increases the offer to $250,000.00 cash up front. "No," he insists, "he's not for sale." The stranger again increases the offer, this time to $500,000.00 cash. The man finally agrees, and turns the frog over to the stranger in exchange for the money. "Are you insane?" the bartender demanded. "That frog could have been worth millions to you, and you let him go for a mere $500,000!" "Don't worry about it," the man answered. "The frog was really nothing special. The oldest brother wakes up, reads the note left by his father, and decides that life isn't worth living. So he goes to the lake to drown himself as well. There is a mermaid there. She tells the boy that if he can screw her 5 times, she will resurrect his father, and the cows. Anyway, the boy tries his best, but only can do it 3 times. So, she kills him. The second oldest brother goes to the lake to drown himself, and the mermaid is there. She says that if he screws her 10 times in a row, she will resurrect his father, brother, and cows. He tries his best, but only can get it up 8 times. The youngest brother then goes to the lake. The mermaid tells him that he must do it with her 20 times. "A guy was standing in front of the gorilla cage at the zoo one day, when a gust of wind swept some dust into his eye. As he rubbed his eyelid, the gorilla went crazy, bent open the bars, and beat the guy senseless. When the guy came to his senses, he reported the incident to the zookeeper. Nodding, the zookeeper explained that pulling down your eyelid means "screw you" in gorilla language. The explanation didn't make the victim feel any better - and he vowed revenge. The next day, he purchased two large knives, two party hats, two party horns, and a large sausage. Putting the sausage in his pants, he hurried to the zoo and went right up to the gorilla's cage where he opened up his bag of goodies. Knowing that gorillas were natural mimics, he put on a party hat. The gorilla looked at him, reached through the bars, grabbed a hat from the bag, and put it on. Next, the guy picked up his horn and blew on it. The gorilla reached out, picked up his horn, and did the same. "A business was looking for office help. They put a sign in the window, stating the following: HELP WANTED-Must be able to type, have computer skills, and be bilingual. We are an Equal Opportunity Employer. A dog trotted up to the window, saw the sign and went inside. He looked at the receptionist and wagged his tail, then walked over to the sign, looked at it and whined a bit. Getting the idea, the receptionist got the office manager. The office manager looked at the dog and was surprised, to say the least. However, the dog looked determined, so he led him into the office. Inside, the dog jumped up on a chair and stared at the manager. The manager said, "I can't hire you. The sign says you have to be able to type." The dog jumped down, went to the typewriter and proceeded to type out a perfect letter. He took out the page and trotted over to the manager and gave it to him, then jumped back up on the chair. The manager was stunned, but then told the dog, "The sign also says you have to be good with a computer." The dog jumped down again and went to the computer. The dog proceeded to enter and execute a perfect spreadsheet that worked flawlessly the first time. By this time, the manager was totally dumb-founded! He looked at the dog and said, "I realize that you are a very intelligent dog and have some interesting abilities. However, I still can't give you the job." The dog jumped down and went over to a copy of the sign and put his paw on the sentence about being an Equal Opportunity Employer. The manager said, "Yes, but the sign also says that you have to be bilingual." The dog looked at the manager calmly and said, "Meow." Animals-Insects

He recognizes that the saucer is extremely old and very valuable, so he walks casually into the store and offers to buy the cat for two dollars. The storeowner replies "I'm sorry, but the cat isn't for sale. The collector says, "Please, I need a hungry cat around the house to catch mice. I'll pay you twenty dollars for that cat." And the owner says "Sold," and hands over the cat. The collector continues, "Hey, for the twenty bucks I wonder if you could throw in that old saucer. "A guy walks into a crowded bar with a little spider on his shoulder. Everyone else laughs, but he says "This spider is stronger than any of you!" One bloke says "Prove it!" "Right; my spider will pick up this bar stool." He puts the spider on the floor and the spider picks it up. Everyone is amazed, but then he says "Now the spider will pick up a table." And the spider easily picks up the table. Everyone applauds, and the guy says "That's nothing - this tiny spider will lift up the whole bar!" With a great effort, it picks up the bar. "What else can it do?" one of the blokes asks. So the man says "For the grand finale - it will pick up the bar with every one of us on it!" Everyone starts to get onto the bar until everyone in there is standing on it. The spider starts walking towards the bar with an air of determination. Then, a man walks into the bar, sees the spider on the floor walking towards the bar, and steps on it, saying "You bunch of wimps, scared of a little spider." Animals-Insects

"Subject: Worst joke ever a man starts his new job at the zoo and is given three tasks. First is to clear the exotic fish pool of weeds. As he does this, a huge fish jumps out and bites him. To show the others whose boss, he beats it to death with a spade. Realizing his employer won't be best pleased; He disposes of the fish by feeding it to the lions, as lions will eat anything. Moving on to the second job of clearing out the chimp house, He is attacked by the chimps who pelt him with coconuts. He swipes at two chimps with a spade, killing them both. What can he do? Feed them to the lions, he says to himself, because lions eat anything. He hurls the corpses into the lion enclosure. He moved on to the last job, which is to collect honey from the South African bees. As soon as he starts, he is attacked by the bees. He grabs the spade and smashes the bees to a pulp. By now he knows what to do and throws them into the lion's cage - because lions eat anything. Later that day a new lion arrives at the zoo. He wanders up to the other lions and says 'What's the food like here?' The lions say: 'Absolutely brilliant. Today we had fish and chimps with mushy bees.'" Animals-Insects

"One Christmas Eve, a frenzied young man ran into a pet shop looking for an unusual Christmas gift for his wife. The shop owner suggested a parrot, named Chet, which could sing famous Christmas carols. This seemed like the perfect gift. "How do I get him to sing?" The young man asked, excitedly. "Simply hold a lighted match directly under his feet." was the shop owner's reply. The shop owner held a lighted match under the parrot's left foot. Chet began to sing: "Jingle Bells! Jingle Bells! ..." The shop owner then held another match under the parrot's right foot. Then Chet's tune changed, and the air was filled with: " Silent Night, Holy Night..." The young man was so impressed that he paid the shop-keeper and ran home as quickly as he could with Chet under his arm. When the wife saw her gift she was overwhelmed. "How beautiful!" She exclaimed, "Can he talk?" "No," the young man replied, "But he can sing. Let me show you." So the young man whipped out his lighter and placed it under Chet's left foot, as the shop-keeper had shown him, and Chet crooned: "Jingle Bells! Jingle bells!..." The man then moved the lighter to Chet's right foot, and out came: "Silent Night, Holy night..." The wife, her face filled with curiosity, then asked, "What if we hold the lighter between his legs?" The man did not know. "Let's try it," he answered, eager to please his wife. So they held the lighter between Chet's legs. Chet twisted his face, cleared his throat, and the little parrot sang out loudly like it was the performance of his life: "Chet's nuts roasting on an open fire...."" Animals-Insects

"A rabbit, a fox and a bear are notified that they are to be conscripted into the Animal Army but, as pacifists, they agree they do not want any part in the military and start looking for solutions. "I can bite off my own tail," says the fox. "They won't want a fox with no tail." So the fox bites off his lovely bushy tail, goes to the conscription center and comes back with his rejection slip.

“OK,” says the rabbit, “bite my ears off. They won't want a rabbit with no ears.” So the fox bites off the rabbit's ears, the rabbit goes to the conscription center and also comes back with a rejection slip. Then it's the bear's turn and the fox suggests they knock out all of his teeth with a stone, as the Animal Army certainly won't want a bear with no teeth. So they knock out all the bear's teeth, the bear goes to the conscription Centre and also comes back with a rejection slip, but looks a bit depressed. “See,” says the fox. “I told you they wouldn't take a bear with no teeth.” “Yet,” says the bear, “but they rejected me because I'm too fat.”” Animals-Insects

"An atheist explorer in the deepest Amazon Forest suddenly finds himself surrounded by a group of blood thirsty Cannibals. Upon surveying the situation, he says quietly to himself, "Oh God, I'm screwed this time!" Suddenly there is a ray of light from Heaven and a voice booms out, "No, you are not screwed. All you have to do is pick up that rock at your feet and bash in the head of the chief cannibal standing in front of you". So the explorer picks up the rock and proceeds to bash the chief unconscious. As he stands over the body, breathing heavily and surrounded by hundreds of Cannibals with looks of shock and anger on their faces, God's voice booms out again and says, "OK.....Now You're screwed". "I was flagged down outside Greggs in the town centre today by a hippy chick with beads in her hair, ripped jeans, open-toed sandals and a blue RSPCA polo shirt. She saw me from a good 50 yards away and started waving her clipboard and grinning inanely at me. I did the obligatory look over my shoulder, look back at her, and point at myself whilst mouthing 'me?' routine, sighed and headed towards her. She bounced into the air and landed her face not three inches from mine, close enough to smell the quorn nuggets on her breath. "Hiya! Are you OK?! My name's Casa..." I held up my finger to her face and gently touched it to her lips, dragging it slowly from one side of her mouth to the other like a stoned metronome. Then without breaking eye contact once, I leant in even closer to her face and said softly, "When I was nine, I beat a puppy to death with a spade and threw it onto the roof of my neighbor's conservatory." Then I walked away, but not before screaming "RARGHH!" at some nearby pigeons." Charity

I don't know why we should give money to Charity for Africans. They always seem to find enough money to get their heads shaved. When was the last time you saw one with long hair? Charity

#2174

"I was watching the T.V last night when an advert came on asking for a three pound donation for African Children. I thought to myself, why they are asking for three pound a month when they can obviously afford to have their teeth professionally whitened?" Charity

#2175

"My little boy asked me last night if Pudsey Bear was a pirate. Why? I asked. He said; well he has a patch over his eye and takes everyone's money." Charity

#2176

Red Nose Day - A time to give your missus that one free punch without being questioned. Charity

#2177

"This year's Comic Relief raised the most money in its history. I didn't see Dawn French, so maybe they saved quite a bit on the backstage catering." Charity

#2178

Today I got stopped by 3 different Charity collectors in the street. By the time I got to the 3rd one, I said to them, 'do you people think I'm MADE of excuses?' Charity

#2179

"My mate was raising money for Charity and told me he'd entered me in the 1500m. I nearly ran a mile." Charity

#2180

"I've been watching some of the Comic Relief tonight and it really me thinking... Does anyone else find the appeal videos funnier than the sketches?" Charity

#2181

If we donate this money, we're not going to get these vuvuzelas again, are we? Charity

#2182

"I was watching comic relief last night and they said "no one in Africa has a decent job" but surely if a child dies every 15 seconds, undertakers must be rolling in it?" Charity

#2183

"I don't know if I'll be tuning into comic relief tonight. I watched it last year and thought those comedy sketches of Africa were a little in bad taste." Charity

#2184

"I saw a Charity appeal on tv asking you to send 2 a month to build wells in Africa. One chap in the video had a 5 year old Chelsea shirt on. Glory hunter." Charity

#2185

"Just to let you know, if anyone knocks on your door collecting money for Dr. Barnado's it's a scam. He died in 1905." Charity

#2186

I donated to Charity yesterday...seems they prefer money to sperm though. Charity

#2187

"Cats and dogs will happily drink dirty water out of a puddle. Yet when Africans do it, I have to donate 2 a month." Charity

#2188

Lenny Henry started Comic Relief to help all those starving kids in Africa. Hey Lenny, here's a suggestion to gather more food for those kids. Stop feeding your fat wife! Charity

#2189

Isn't it ironic that UNICEF have a dinner to raise money for starving Children? Charity

#2190

"How has Walkers raised 1million pound for comic relief? By half filling their bags of crisps." Charity

#2191

I refuse to donate to animal charities when I've seen their adverts on TV. If they can't turn a talking dog into a money making machine then they don't deserve my help. Charity

#2192

People say the West is decadent but Comic Relief showed us different. 100 can buy someone a basic shelter, so the 58million Comic Relief raised will buy some African warlord a huge palace! Charity

#2193

I want to bring awareness to the fact that disadvantaged Children from all over the country are being exploited on camera as part of a large-scale moneymaking scheme. Ringleader "Pudsey Bear" is still at large. Charity

#2194

"Watching Children In Need has made me feel really proud of my contribution. Without me they wouldn't have had half of those stories about abused kids." Charity

#2195

After years of thinking it wasn't anything I should be concerned about, I have finally given in to my conscience and decided to sponsor a needy child in the Third World. She is eleven years old, white and lives in Bradford. Charity

#2196

Wonder if Madonna has placed her order yet on Children in need Charity

#2197

"An African child dies from starvation every three seconds. On the plus side, that's less money I need to give to Children In Need next year." Charity

#2198

Some people in Africa walk eight miles every day, just to get away from Lenny Henry. Charity

#2199

"Children in need. The time of year UK houseflies get to see all their African relatives on tv." Charity

#2200

Wow Lenny, I haven't seen a black man look so good next to Cotton since my great grandfather's plantation. Charity

#2201

"I had to keep restarting my TV during comic relief. Every time they showed a film my TV went black!" Charity

#2202

I for one am impressed with Jade Goody. In her suffering she has still found time to shave her head for Comic Relief. Charity

#2203

"Watching comic relief, there's some depressing stuff on here that truly brings a tear to my eye. Little Britain and Catherine Tate in the same sketch...." Charity

#2204

You know you have a cruel streak when you put a pair of ladies trousers into a Charity collection bag destined for the Sudan. Charity

#2205

"If there are Children in need they should send them to my place. I've got a large donation I need to make." Charity

#2206

I'm watching 'Children in Need' and I'm wondering where all the British Children are. All I can see is Pakis and Blacks. That lot are just Children in need of a good Tsunami. Charity

#2207

"comic relief making famine even more funny" Charity

#2208

"Just done my Charity work for the year! Took a ginger out on a date" Charity

#2209

"Hugh Jackman is supporting a poverty campaign, encouraging the western world to try and live on just a pound a day. He looked really cool in his black limousine and Hugo Boss suit." Charity

#2210

"I recently discovered that UNICEF don't have a sense of humor. Apparently it's not funny asking the wee kids with the big bellies: "When's it due?"" Charity

#2211

"I was just watching Sports Relief on BBC1, and i couldn't help but feel sorry for all the black, uneducated, AIDs ridden people that aren't able look after themselves without our help. Poor JLS and Lenny Henry." Charity

#2212

"Personally, I think people should go that extra mile for Charity. So while I was in Africa, I helped dig a well an extra mile away from the village." Charity

#2213

"Just seen that advert about deaf and blind Children. Just 3 a month can bring a blind and deaf child into the world. But it took me 10 worth of bricks, a body bag and a lake to take mine out of this world." Charity

#2214

"I've just seen Susan Boyle singing on "Sport Relief". Singing isn't very sporty is it? Surely more people would pay up to see her try the Hurdles or something?" Charity

#2215

Whoever came up with the Charity "Computers for Africa" clearly misunderstood the meaning of an Apple a day. Charity

#2216

"I phoned the BBC and asked if Pudsey Bear could give me a donation, I said, "My legs are totally useless, I find it difficult to string a coherent sentence together and find it really hard to keep my food and drink down!" They said, "To qualify for a grant we need to know how the money will be used?" I said "It's for the taxi home I spent all my money on Stella!"

Charity

#2217

"Manchester United have donated two replica Child Size football Shirts to be auctioned on Children in Need. Ian Huntley has bid 2 ounces of snout and a phone card." Charity

#2218

"I just saw this awful video on Children in need. It read: "Kirsty is 4 years old from Hull, she regularly gets beaten by her father and is a punch bag for her drunk, drug addicted mother. So give us just 3 pounds to make a Difference in Kirsty's life." I can't believe they would do that to a little girl, bringing her up in Hull." Charity

#2219

"Seeing as its Comic Relief tonight, I thought I'd do something for money. I'm going to work." Charity

#2220

"It's good to see that on the day of the Community Shield, Manchester City are doing their bit for Charity and donating to the poor. Twenty million pounds to Everton for Jack Rodwell." Charity

#2221

"Phoned up Children in need and said I will give 50 quid for the little starving black kid who was an orphan. Apparently it is not an auction." Charity

#2222

"Whilst watching Crime watch earlier, I thought "This is more upbeat than usual" Then I realized that JLS were on Children in Need." Charity

#2223

"I have decided to do my bit for Comic Relief this year and so far have raised over 200! However, is it wrong that I'm doing it by taking bets on how long Jade has left?" Charity

#2224

"I bungee jumped for Children In Need this year and gave them a cheque for TWO THOUSAND POUNDS! It bounced." Charity

#2225

"As I sit here eating pringles, watching Concern ads on YouTube. I can't help but think, what do i want for Christmas?" Charity

#2226

Just been arrested for masturbating on my local football ground, that's the last time I attempt Sport Relief. Charity

#2227

"As I was beating up my 12 year old son when my wife walked in and screamed, " What you doing? Stop it!" I said, " I gave him 10 the other day and he totally misspent it." She said," He didn't. He gave 5 to Water Aid and the rest to a Malaria Charity." I said," Exactly. Drink and drugs!." Charity

#2228

"Why has a separate Charity been made for Haiti? What happened to the save the apes trust?"
Charity

#2229

"Children in Need. I am in need of some Children myself. Maybe we can come to some sort of agreement?" Charity

#2230

"God must see my fat wife as a Charity. He seems to be giving her body 2 pounds a month."
Charity

#2231

"I think it's so great how easy it is to help charities these days. Apparently, all I have to do is thumbs up this picture." Charity

#2232

"A Charity bag for 'Kidney Research' just came through my door, Instead of doing the usual and donating old clothes I decided to save them a lot of time and money and left them a little note instead... The kidneys are located behind the abdominal cavity in the retro peritoneum, The kidneys are paired organs with several functions. They are seen in many types of Animals, including vertebrates and some invertebrates. They are an essential part of the urinary system."
Charity

#2233

I wonder if we'll see Xfactor reject Gamu Nhengu on tonight's Comic Relief.. Charity

#2234

"I stand for Children. Well, part of me, anyway." Charity

#2235

"If I had a pound for every time i heard the number on Children in need I would probably make a donation" Charity

#2236

"Terry, I watched those spastic girls drooling on Children In Need earlier and I raised 6 inches."
Charity

#2237

"BBC1 should explain the concept behind Sport Relief a bit better next time. I don't think their executives can even begin to imagine how hard it has been trying to crack one out over Gary Lineker and Alan Hansen." Charity

#2238

"I love Children in need, I only watch the really hilarious bits though, I turn it off when the comedians come on." Charity

#2239

After 8 pints of lager, I rang the hotline for Children in Need, and told the lady to get her calculator out, while I pledged a seven figure sum; 5,318,008. She thanked me for being so generous but asked why such an unusual figure. I told her to turn the calculator upside down and consider her own unusual figure. Charity

#2240

"Last week, Comic Relief asked me to do 'something funny for money.' I went one better, however. I did nothing - for free." Charity

#2241

"Thought I'd give donating sperm ago the other day. It turns out Oxfam arent as grateful for your help as they like to make out." Charity

#2242

"The BBC are going to have a new fund raising event next year for people who have lost limbs. It's called "hand relief". Charity

#2243

"Our son asked what we'd like as a Silver Wedding present, so I told him to surprise us, but hinted at a stay in one of those hotels that Lenny Henry goes to on the telly. So here we are in Ethiopia in a hut built entirely from cow dung." Charity

#2244

Isn't it a bit ironic how they're trying to get us to slob around in front of the TV to watch sport relief? Charity

#2245

"If there's one thing Comic Relief has taught me tonight. I need to get out more." Charity

#2246

"SSPCA attack RSPCA over funds" I guess that it's dog-eat-dog in the animal Charity world" Charity

#2247

I'm sick of watching films of ill Africans followed by the money rising. Can we see a body count? Charity

#2248

"Just bought a bottle of water and there was an interesting Charity message on the side; "One billion people in the world don't have access to clean drinking water. You can change this. One person, one day at a time." I don't know about you guys, but I haven't got a billion days to spare..." Charity

#2250

"I just had a leaflet posted through my door inviting me to what sounds like a very prestigious annual fashion event. Third World Clothing Collection is on Tuesday." Charity

#2251

I try to donate to Charity, but they keep bringing my kids back. Charity

#2252

Haha, one of my colleagues has just come to work dressed as a woman for Children In Need. Congratulations, that was a very brave thing to do, Karen. Charity

#2253

"Tonight on BBC Children In Need - 'Peter Andre delivers a tribute to Michael Jackson' Hopefully in person" Charity

#2254

Children in need... A polite way of being asked "give me your money" by black kids Charity

#2255

If Children In Need really did make a Difference then I doubt we would need to keep having it every year. Charity

#2256

Stood outside Tesco with sign saying 'Help for Heroes'; in 15 minutes I had enough money for a box of them and some Quality Street. Charity

#2257

"Yesterday, I was kicked out of Oxfam for puffing Marlboros. It appears there's not much demand for second-hand smoke. Charity

#2258

""From just 2 a month you can help change someone's life." Well, it worked for Joe McElderry...." Charity

#2259

"Children in need: two of the ten beds are empty because they can't afford to keep them open. So what did you do with the 39 million raised last year?" Charity

#2260

My parents died tragically when doing a Charity bungee jump, raising money for orphans. Charity

#2261

Is Comic Relief what Dawn French used to give to Lenny Henry? Charity

#2262

19 to help an old person at Christmas! I could save a snow leopard for 3!!!! Charity

#2263

"I feel quite sorry for all the British athletes who went to Africa to make films for Sport Relief. It must be really depressing for them to realize that even starving AIDS victims with no shoes are better at running than them." Charity

#2264

"I've decided to "Do Something Funny for Money" I pushed a Spastic over and knicked his pocket money. I haven't laughed so much in ages." Charity

#2265

I can't give away my old clothes to the poor. They have enough to put up with without the add humiliation of wearing last season clothes. Charity

#2266

"Whenever Charity collectors knock on my door I just can't say no... That's why I slam the door in their face." Charity

#2267

I'm sorry, but if JLS and Lemar are too selfish to send money home, I don't see why I should feel guilty. Charity

#2268

"I was stopped in the street today by a Charity worker who said, "In the spirit of 'Mo-vember' will you grow a 'mo' to raise some much needed funds and awareness for men's health?" I replied, "In the spirit of 'November', no."" Charity

#2269

"For me, every day is Red Nose Day. Because I'm an alcoholic." Charity

#2270

Why was Miranda HArt on Comic Relief? The unfunny bits are supposed to have African Children in them. Charity

#2271

"I'm off out after in my pajamas with a bucket going shop to shop, trying to raise some money for Children in need. My two want an Xbox 360 and a Nintendo 3DS this year." Charity

#2272

Due to mankind's abuse of the environment, the whale has now become an endangered species. However, YOU can help. For just 2 a month, you can adopt a whale and ensure they don't die out. To donate and help save the whales just ring me and ask for my wife. Charity

#2273

"Top Tip for anyone annoyed with the quality of their Refuse Collection Services. There is a new one in my area. They place white bin bags through your front door; you fill them with household waste, leave them outside your house and they collect them. The only downside is that they insist on putting disgusting pictures of kids with cancer on the side of the binbags." Charity

#2274

"This year I'm going to take a leaf out of Harringey council's book I won't be helping Children In Need" Charity

#2275

"A Charity worker stopped me as I came out of Tesco today. She said, "Would you like to make a donation for Orphaned Children?" I said, "Yeah, why not. I've got a spare few quid in my jeans." She said, "Thanks, your money will make a great Difference in Africa." I said, "My jeans are in the car, wait there, I'll just go and get them." Charity

#2276

"So I hear Jessie J will be performing for Children In Need this year with her hit Price tag. Well if it's not about the money they won't mind me not donating this year then." Charity

#2277

"I had a cancer scare yesterday. A woman with a collection tin came towards me, fortunately I managed to cross the road before she got to me." Charity

#2278

It's not wife beating, it's just constructive criticism. Charity

#2279

Every day is Red Nose Day with alcoholism. Charity

#2280

"I am ashamed to say that whilst watching Comic Relief last night, I found myself compelled to switch channels every time the side splitting humor was interrupted by the desperate black man trying to eke out a meagre existence. Lenny Henry, give it a rest next year." Charity

#2281

"My job at the BBC is inviting guests onto our shows I sent an E-Mail to my "Celeb" group "Children In Need, are you available?" Instantly Gary Glitter replied "I'd love to come on Children In Need again"" Charity

#2282

"A friend of mine just updated her Facebook status to read: "Comic relief is starting, I should go get some tissues" "I already have mine" I commented back. She replied with "I didn't know this kind of thing upset you so much" "It doesn't"" Charity

#2283

"Just saw that NSPCC advert, the one where it shows a young black kid looking threw a bin bag for food. Poor thing.....Must be a terrible life, yano, not being smArt enough to look in the fridge." Charity

#2284

"BBC Children In Need - "There are disabled Children in every corner of the country needing your help!" Just because they are disabled don't mean you should put them in a corner! That's not right!" Charity

#2285

"It's good of Sky to support comic relief. They keep putting a little red nose in the corner of the screen." Charity

#2286

Is it just me that thinks asking Children to 'do something funny for money' is immensely inappropriate? Charity

#2287

"One of those clips of ill African Children just came on Coming Relief. My wife thought i was being all sensitive when I reached for a box of tissues. Well she couldn't of been more wrong." Charity

#2288

Watching sport relief and I see there is a lot about Adrian Chiles Shaving off his beard. In my opinion this isn't that big a deal, I mean it's not like he has much of one anyway. What I'd really like to see would be a Muslim shaving off his beard. Now that would actually be worth something. Charity

#2289

I went to the comic relief last night, and after realizing this was a once in a life time opportunity I reached over, put my hands down and stroked the red carpet a couple of times. I don't think Ann Robinson was too pleased though. Charity

#2290

"I noticed a Charity box at work the other day with packets of sweets in. It was in aid for the Great Ormond St. Hospital Trust, and I also noticed the message "Please consider the Children this Christmas" was written on it. So I nicked a couple of packets for the kids at home." Charity

#2291

"What's red and not worth paying for? A plastic nose." Charity

#2292

Am I the only one who thinks it's a bit suspicious that if you send money via post to Children In Need, it needs to be sent to Liverpool? Charity

#2293

Save on the cost of a Comic Relief red nose by using the same one from last year. Charity

#2294

"It's amazing how many new words you learn every day. I heard one today. Chuggers: Charity-muggers. The people in the street who try and steal your credit card details on behalf of disabled kids in Africa. Well I made up a word of my own today. Chunts." Charity

#2295

"I sponsored a little blind kid today. I tattooed "Fly Emirates" on his chest." Charity

#2296

I'm devastated. I've just found out that some of the money that I donated in 1984-85 for insurgent groups to buy weapons was redirected to buy food and medicines for victims of the Ethiopian famine. Charity

#2299

"A black guy just said to me, "Who is that on your comic relief t/shirt?" "Don't you know," I replied. "Shakespeare?"Quickest black eye I ever got." Charity

#2300

"My wife was disappointed when she saw my efforts for Comic Relief, Masturbating over Hentai." Charity

#2301

"Charity is like Incest. It begins at home." Charity

#2302

"I've got a new job working as one of those Charity muggers who stops unsuspecting people in the street. The man at the NSPCC told me they weren't recruiting, but I kept him talking and eventually he realized it would be easier to just sign me up so he could get on with his day." Charity

#2303

Apparently just two pounds a week will help support Nagic and his little brother. Why can't Christian Aid run the CSA? Charity

#2304

Wow, Sport Relief? That's nothing, Basheed has to walk 12 miles a day to fetch water for his Family... Charity

#2305

Adrian chiles getting his beard shaved for sport relief id of rather given a fiver to see Christine's beard shaved off!!!! Charity

#2306

Just 3 pounds a month will help provide training for the England team. Please. Charity

#2307

"Charity mugger: How about ten pounds a month for cancer? Me: Tell you what love, for fifty, I'll give you gonorrhea" Charity

#2308

"Children In Need gets me every year. When I see those poor, penniless black kids, I understand why they went out looting in Totten ham." Charity

#2309

I think scientists have become obsolete. Nowadays you can fight cancer by just growing a moustache. Charity

#2310

Charity: Where we give them aid, and they give us aids. Charity

#2311

"Comic Relief raised a record 74m last night, with the projected total at 100 by the end of the weekend. In other news, planning permission has just been granted for two 6,000 acre solid platinum palaces in Libya and Zimbabwe." Charity

#2312

"A friend of mine hopes to raise over 1,000,000 for Charity this year. He is going to sit on top of a bonfire, whilst it is on fire. What a guy." Charity

#2316

Just done my bit for Children in need, I loosened the cuffs on Maddie. Charity

#2317

"Just been watching Comic Relief and I found the footage of the impoverished and uneducated blacks really harrowing Why does the BBC continue to use Lenny Henry & Reggie Yates?" Charity

#2318

Gordon Brown's acting is as useless as his left eye Charity

#2319

"My wife just had a call from a Charity asking her to donate some of her clothes to some of the starving people in the world. She asked "How will giving somebody clothes stop them being hungry?" Apparently they're short of tents as well." Charity

#2320

"Co-op fair trade chocolate is made up of 93% Fairtrade ingredients. Do they make their profit from ripping off the other 7%?" Charity

#2321

"I love Children in need. ...What Charity appeal?" Charity

#2322

Watching those poor, mal-nourished African kids hasn't half made me hungry!! Charity

#2323

"My Mrs. was sat watching Comic Relief when she shouts at me to pledge.... One thing letting her out the kitchen to watch TV but asking me to clean" Charity

#2324

"The benefits of Red Nose Day are already showing, 20,000 Ghanaians were seen on a trip to Wembley." Charity

#2325

"There are so many more Charity adverts on around Christmas. Basically, Children in Africa are starving. Any money we can send they use to build wells and teach the people hygiene and farming techniques. It's amazing really how little it actually takes... To make me change the channel." Charity

#2326

"Children in need: more than a million Children in the U.K have a learning difficulty. But they don't want your sympathy. Just your money then" Charity

#2327

"The tagline to the Charity Save the Children is "No child born to die." Well, technically..." Charity

#2328

"I found a poo stain in my boxers tonight. It's fairly standard when you buy underwear from a Charity shop." Charity

#2329

"One of the things I love about this time of year is how those kind charities give out free bin bags through the letterbox. Thanks to Sue Ryder, British Heart Foundation and Children's Leukemia Research for getting into the Christmas spirit. I have saved a fortune!" Charity

#2330

If you've never sent a pair of your dirty panties to a soldier, then freedom obviously means nothing to you. Charity

#2331

"Susan Boyle and Peter Kay in the same room at the same time? I suspect editing." Charity

#2332

"A Charity worker stopped me in the street and said that some 8 year old gets paid 10 a month to make my shoes. Couldn't help but think those kids have some skills.....I couldn't even spell my name at 8 years old." Charity

#2333

"I always do a spot of fund raising during the week. I call it work." Charity

#2334

"I've been sponsoring a child in Africa for about 8 months now and I'm starting to get really annoyed. I mean, in all the photos I've been sent of little Keto, I haven't once seen my name on the front of his shirt." Charity

#2335

When I watch Comic Relief I always imagine I am bipolar. I sit all night watching celebrities making a fool of themselves and then a starving African baby comes on and always cheers me up. Charity

#2336

Nice to see nicklas bendtner making an appearance on comic relief. Charity

#2337

I think I'm being scammed. I give five pounds a month to a Charity. They're committed to beating heart disease. All the diseases I can think of make it stop. Charity

#2338

"I phoned up the Samaritans today because I was feeling really depressed having been told I have a heart defect. They entered me into next year's Marathon." Charity

#2339

"I'm doing my bit for Children in Need. So far I've collected 100 and I'm keeping it. Well, I was a child once and I need the money." Charity

#2340

"I was about to donate some money to help feed starving African Children, but decided I wanted another bag of maltesers instead. I love my life." Charity

#2341

"My wife just posted on Facebook "The Pride of Britain Awards are on TV tonight, better get the tissues ready" I'm sure I'm not the only one who thought.....what time's Hannah Montana on then?" Charity

#2342

After all the running around to collect the ten thousand pound that I raised for Children In Need for walking a whole fifty miles, I decided that I needed a car, lucky really. Charity

#2343

"I must have seen hundreds of Asians and blacks driving taxis this weekend in London which made me think... It's nice to see Comic Relief is still working" Charity

#2344

I hate the fact that they punctuate the comedy with serious unfunny sketches during Red Nose Day. My sides were splitting as I watched lots of black babies dying of Malaria when they spoiled it by sticking Michael McIntyre on. Charity

#2345

Just watching the footage of poor starving African kids on TV....makes you wonder how they manage to afford a fresh buzz cut but can't afford to buy their lunch... Charity

#2346

""Well, I'm not so sure..." I hesitantly admitted. "Please, think of the Children otherwise doomed to grow up in poverty!" he pleaded. Dad narrowly managed to convince me to get an abortion." Charity

#2347

It think it's a nice added touch how the BBC and Oxfam take starving Children, then make them drink from filthy water and stand still with flies on their face just for an advert. Charity

#2348

""If we don't receive 30million in donations over the phone by 2am then kids all over the world will suffer." No, not Children in Need, I've rounded up a few friends over the internet and we've begun taking hostages." Charity

#2349

Comic Relief, because seeing people less fortunate than us is funny. Charity

#2350

"My wife is sat on the sofa downstairs with a box of Kleenex, sobbing her heart out watching Comic Relief. I'm led on the bed with a box of Kleenex for an entirely different reason. I'm also watching Comic Relief." Charity

#2351

Berbatov donated 1 pound for every yard he's covered this season. Comic Relief were very thankful for the 3 pound donation. Charity

#2352

"It's 1.20am in the morning and I've been watching BBC's Comic Relief for over six hours. All these people donating hundreds of pounds of their own money and I must admit that I feel disgusted in myself. I should have gone to bed about 10pm, as I'm in work for 6am." Charity

#2353

"Two little boys, ages 8 and 10, are excessively mischievous. They are always getting into trouble and their parents know if any mischief occurs in their town, the two boys are probably involved. The boys' mother heard that a preacher in town had been successful in disciplining Children, so she asked if he would speak with her boys. The preacher agreed, but he asked to see them individually. The mother sent the 8 year old in the morning, with the older boy to see the preacher in the afternoon. The preacher, a huge man with a deep booming voice, sat the younger boy down and asked him sternly, "Do you know where God is, son?" The boy's mouth dropped open, but he made no response, sitting there wide-eyed with his mouth hanging open. So the preacher repeated the question in an even sterner tone, "Where is God?!" Again, the boy made no attempt to answer. The preacher raised his voice even more and shook his finger in the boy's face and bellowed, "WHERE is GOD?!" The boy screamed and bolted from the room, ran directly home and dove into his closet, slamming the door behind him. When his older brother found him in the closet, he asked "What happened?" The dog sitter phoned the vets and informed them and asked what to do. They told her to bring the dog in to the vets. The vets was fairly far away in Liverpool Street, London. And the dog sitter doesn't drive. She looked round the house for something to put the dog in and ended up choosing a suitcase! She then headed on to the underground with the dead dog in the suitcase. When finally arriving at Liverpool Street station trying to get this bag up the stairs she was offered some help. The guy was surprised how heavy it was and asked what was inside... Customer: I don't know, I tried to use my car on Friday and it didn't work, now it's Monday and I need to get to work and I can't and this needs to be fixed right now. Mechanic: Can you start the car? Can you even get into your car? Does it make any sounds when you try to start it? Are all 4 tires there? Customer: I don't know, I don't know what any of that stuff means, I tried to get to work and it wouldn't let me and you need to fix it now because you changed my oil 6 months ago. Mechanic: Alright well what kind of car are you driving? Customer: I don't know, a green one why does that matter? Mechanic: Please take a look at the back of your car and see if there are any letters or numbers that would indicate a vehicle model or manufacturer Customer: Ok, my car is a SV2 87K. Mechanic: No sir that's your license plate. My records indicate that you drive a Nissan Altima, can you confirm that the key you're using to try and get into this car says Nissan on it? Customer: My key says Lexus but I don't see how that makes a Difference, I've been using this key on this car for years and it's always worked, what did you do to my car?" Computers-Technology

"The Royal Air Force develops a new fighter jet. It is very fast, extremely agile and more or less the perfect aircraft. Only one problem occurs time and again - the wings keep breaking off. No matter what the engineers try, they fail to solve the problem. The Ministry of Defense offers a special prize of 100,000 to anyone who can find a solution. Among the thousands of submissions is a letter from Mrs. Brenda White, 70, of Grimsby. She recommends applying perforations to the points where the wings keep breaking off. All the experts have a good laugh at old Brenda and try out the other suggested solutions first, but none of them work. In the end, they perforate the wings at the points where they otherwise break off - and the wings stay intact! All the experts are astonished and all of them want to know how old Brenda hit upon the idea for the solution. When she comes to the Ministry to receive her prize, the Minister of Defense himself asks her directly. "Well, you know," says Brenda, "it's quite simple really. Has your toilet paper ever torn at the perforations?" Computers-Technology

"Salary Theorem" states that "Engineers and Scientists can never earn as much as Business Executives and Sales People." This theorem can now be supported by a mathematical equation based on the following two postulates: 1. Knowledge is Power. 2. Time is Money. As every engineer knows: $\text{Power} = \text{Work} / \text{Time}$ Since: $\text{Knowledge} = \text{Power} \times \text{Time} = \text{Money}$ It follows that: $\text{Knowledge} = \text{Work} / \text{Money}$. Solving for Money, we get: $\text{Money} = \text{Work} / \text{Knowledge}$. Thus, as Knowledge approaches zero, Money approaches infinity, regardless of the amount of work done. Conclusion: The less you know, the more you make." Embarrassment

"MEN ARE JUST HAPPIER PEOPLE NICKNAMES If Laura, Kate and Sarah go out for lunch, they will call each other Laura, Kate and Sarah. If Mike, Dave and John go out, they will affectionately refer to each other as Fat Boy, Godzilla and Four-eyes. EATING OUT when the bill arrives, Mike, Dave and John will each throw in 20, even though it's only for 32.50. None of them will have anything smaller and none will actually admit they want change back. When the girls get their bill, outcome the pocket calculators. MONEY A man will pay 2 for a 1 item he needs. A woman will pay 1 for a 2 item that she doesn't need but it's on sale. BATHROOMS A man has six items in his bathroom: toothbrush and toothpaste, shaving cream, razor, a bar of soap, and a towel. The average number of items in the typical woman's bathroom is 337. A man would not be able to identify more than 20 of these items. ARGUMENTS a woman has the last word in any argument. Anything a man says after that is the beginning of a new argument. FUTURE A woman worries about the future until she gets a husband. A man never worries about the future until he gets a wife. SUCCESS a successful man is one who makes more money than his wife can spend. A successful woman is one who can find such a man. MARRIAGE A woman marries a man expecting he will change, but he doesn't. A man marries a woman expecting that she won't change, but she does. DRESSING UP A woman will dress up to go shopping, water the plants, empty the trash, answer the phone, read a book, and get the mail. A man will dress up for weddings and funerals. NATURAL Men wake up as good-looking as they went to bed. Women somehow deteriorate during the night. OFFSPRING Ah, Children. A woman knows all about her Children. She knows about dentist appointments and romances, best friends, favourite's foods, secret fears and hopes and Dreams. A man is vaguely aware of some short people living in the house. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY a married man should forget his mistakes. There's no use in two people remembering the same thing." Family

On the bus, one turned to another and said, "So, what did you bring?" The second convict pulled out a box of oils and stated that he intended to paint anything he could. He wanted to become the 'John Constable of Jail'. Then he asked the first, "What did you bring?" The first convict pulled out a deck of cards and grinned and said, "I brought cards. I can play poker, solitaire, gin, and any number of games." The third convict was sitting quietly aside, grinning to himself. The other two took notice and asked, "Why are you so smug? What did you bring?" The guy pulled out a box of tampons and smiled, saying, "I brought these." The other two were puzzled and asked, "What on earth can you do with those?" He grinned, pointed to the box and said, "Well, according to the box, I can go horseback riding, swimming, skiing, roller-skating....."" Family

The landlord, feeling slightly awkward, tries to make polite conversation while pouring the beers. "Been on holiday yet, lads?" "Off to England next month," says John. "We go to England every year and hire a car and drive for miles, don't us, Jim?" Jim agrees. "Ah, England!" says the landlord. "Wonderful country: the history, the beer, the culture..." "Nah, we don't like that British stuff," says John. "Hamburgers and Molson's beer, that's us, eh Jim? And we can't stand the English!" "So why keep going to England?" asks the landlord. "There was a middle-aged couple who had two stunningly beautiful blonde teen-aged daughters. They decided to try one last time for the son they always wanted. After months of trying, the wife became pregnant and, sure enough, nine months later delivered a healthy baby boy. The joyful father rushed to the nursery to see his new son. He took one look and was horrified to see the ugliest child he had ever seen. He went to his wife and said that there was no way he could be the father of that child. "Look at the two beautiful daughters I fathered." Then he gave her a stern look and asked, "Have you been fooling around on me?" The wife just smiled sweetly and said, "Not this time." Family

"A newlywed farmer and his wife were visited by her mother, who immediately demanded an inspection of the place. While they were walking through the barn, the farmer's mule suddenly reared up and kicked the mother-in-law in the head, killing her instantly. At the funeral service a few days later, the farmer stood near the casket and greeted folks as they walked by. The priest noticed that whenever a woman would whisper something to the farmer, he would nod his head "Yes" and say something. Whenever a man walked by and whispered to the farmer, he would shake his head, "No" and mumble a reply. Curious, the priest later asked the farmer what that was all about. The farmer replied, "The women would say, 'What a terrible tragedy' and I would nod my head and say, 'Yes, it was.'" "I'll never forgive my father for the mug he gave me on my birthday. I'd much rather have inherited my mother's features." Family

#467

"A farmer and his wife had worked hard, scrimped and saved to send their son to college. As soon as he had enrolled, he started to grow a beard. Next he grew a large moustache and sideburns. Being pleased with his hairy face, he had his photo taken and sent it off to his parents. On the back of the photo he scrawled, "How do you like it? Don't I look like a count?" Shortly after, the son received this terse note: "You idiot, it cost us a fortune to send you to college, and you can't even spell!"" Family

#4671

"I vividly recall my Grandfather and me digging a hole in the back garden and filling it with water. Ah, yes. I remember that well." Family

#4683

"First, we were hunter gatherers, collecting mushrooms, nuts and berries from the jungle floor. Then, we became scavengers, eating the remains of the kills of carnivores. Then, we became hunters and we learned to kill for ourselves with primitive bows and spears. Then we discovered fire and at last we could cook our food. ...And then my parents separated and I was taken into care!" Family

#4684

"My sister walked in with a smile on her face holding hands with some bloke she had just met. She said, "Guess what mum, my date didn't show up but it turned out for the best." My mum asked, "Oh that's nice hun, who's the lucky guy?" I said, "The one that didn't show." Family

#4685

"My gran's one of those people who thinks a cup of tea is the answer to everything. And the daft bat still wonders why she didn't get past the first round of Mastermind." Family

"The other day I went to Office Max to get some supplies. While there I bought a new ink cArtridge for my printer. It came in a fairly large box mounted on a card and wrapped in plastic.

When I took it apart, which took an unnecessarily long time, I found that the printer cartridge itself was actually quite small. It seems they made the packaging large to make it harder to steal and to make the customer feel better about the high price. So I pointed this out to my wife and mentioned how my weight gain over the years of our marriage should have the same effect it made me seem more valuable and also made me harder for other women to steal. She's still laughing." Family
